Accessible Technology Training at HHSDC

The HHSDC Training Center and the Department of Rehabilitation are pleased to announce the commencement of Accessible Technology Training for government agencies who need to update their on-line web and other applications to comply with the law.

This seminar is designed to introduce the concept and requirements of accessible technology to government employees who are responsible for bringing their web-based and other applications into compliance with the law.

The first seminar is scheduled for:

- June 26, 2003

Who should attend?

This seminar is designed for Webmasters, Managers, Supervisors, Programmers, Systems Analysts, Purchasing Staff and anyone else who will work to create accessible technology.

What is Accessible Technology?

Accessible Technology refers to technology that can be accessed and used by individuals with disabilities, including but not limited to visual or motor impairments.

Why is Accessible Technology important?

State and Federal law require that individuals with disabilities have access to and use of information and data that is comparable to the access to and use of the information and data by individuals who are not disabled. (Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, 29 USC Section 794d, and Government Code Section 11135.)

What is the benefit of attending an Accessible Technology seminar?

This seminar will help the student understand what accessible technology is, what the legislative requirements are for creating accessible technology, and to see what accessible technology looks like. This seminar will discuss and demonstrate the use of various types of assistive technology and address the creation of accessible forms, web sites and web-based applications.

How long are the seminars?

The seminar is one full day in length.

How are the workshops conducted?

The seminar will use the lecture format filled with many live demonstrations and question and answer sessions.

Who will conduct the seminar?

The professional staff of the Department of Rehabilitation's Technical Services Group will conduct the training. They are the experts in this field in State government, and they have been successful in developing accessible forms, web sites, and web-based applications.

How much will the workshops cost?

The tuition for these seminars is $500 per student.

Where will the workshops take place?

Seminars are conducted at the HHSDC Training Center in Sacramento. Dedicated classes may be scheduled at the customer's site in the Sacramento area. Please call the HHSDC Training Center at (916) 739-7502 for more information about on-site courses.

How do I enroll in a seminar?
